

Jen Henry is the Human Resources Project Manager at The Employers Association.

Jen is primarily responsible for administering, managing and conducting Employee Satisfaction and Engagement Surveys for organizations. She also provides follow up consultative services focused on increasing engagement and morale in the workplace. Other projects she manages include Exit interviews/surveys and the Contract HR Management services program providing HR talent for organization on a temporary or long term project basis.

She is PHR certified and has over 15 years of experience in human resources including roles in Recruiting, Payroll and HR project management. Her expertise is in attracting and retaining top talent within the organization. Jen was born in Virginia, but considers herself as a North Carolina native and has a Bachelor's degree in Psychology from Appalachian State University.